vera after Vesalius' Tabulae. Folio. Wrappers. (Bologna, about 1670).
Frs. 240.--
Of great rarity ! - Choulant-Frank, p. 196. - This work is without any text. The illustrations are the well-known Vesalian-plates, which, at that time, were still attributed to Titian. In fact on the first skelton-plate we find engraved in large letters: "Ticianus inventor et Delineavit", and there is a portrait bust of Titian above St. Marc's lion on the title. - Complete copies like ours are of particulare rarity. - Inner margins of several leaves strengthened, the stained title repaired without affecting the text, some waterstains; except that a large copy with the plates in fine impressions. A copy of this edition has been offered in a recent catalogue for the equivalent of Sfrs.800.- omnia, quae de urinis dici possunt, continentur. 97 leaves. Large uroscopical woodcut. 4to. Original vellum. Venice, Bernardinus Vitalis Venetus, 1519. Frs. 100.-- EDITIO PRINCEPS of this classic work on uroscopy.

Choulant, Handbuch, p. 154.- "Actuarius' monograph upon the increasingly popular subject of uroscopy was later accepted as authoritative and classic. In this Johannes in no way emphasises uroscopy as the universal diagnostic method, but lays stress upon the importance of the other methods of examination"(Neuburger-Playfair).
Some interesting marginal annotations by an early hand. RARE.
34. Verheyen, Ph. Anatomia corporis humani. Two vols. 8 leaves, 403 pp., 16 pp., 348 pp. With 46 anatomical copper-plates. 4to. Old vellum. Naples, 1734. Frs. 34.-- "Verheyen's 'Anatomia' was nearly as popular as that of Bartholin.
He was a keen observer and a good critic"(De Lint).
35. Willichius, J. R. Urinarum probationes, illustratae scholiis Hieronymi Reusneri. 12 leaves, 342 pp., 1 leaf. With numerous uro-scopical woodcuts. Small 8vo. Modern vellum. Basel, 1582. Frs. 58.-- "Willichius(1501 - 52)", one of the most learned men of his time, in the present work was about the first to point out the real value of uroscopy(Ferguson). A few leaves insignificantly stained, but good copy.
36. Porta, G. B. Della fisionomia dell'Huomo libri sei. Aggiuntovi la fisionomia naturale e la celeste. 6 leaves, 570 pp., 2 leaves. With two portraits of the author and numerous curious cuts. 4to. Half calf.
Venice, 1644. Frs. 20.-- Good edition of Porta's classic work on physionomy.

37. (S e r v e t u s). - S a r p i Fra Paolo. Storia del concilio di Trento. Two vols. 4 leaves, 148 pp., 364 pp., 443 pp. With full-page portrait of Sarpi, two plates showing medaillons of the popes, and several vignettes. Large 4to. Helmstadt-Verona, 1761. Frs. 30.-
The passage on Servetus and his burning is contained under the year 1554, page 10 of the second volume.
